PREVIEW: CLASSICS CENTRAL, BEDFORD AUTODROME, THURLEIGH, OCTOBER 30

After only a brief and wisely reflective pause until Brexit/Remain campaigning and vote results had run their course, Classics Central has returned to the collector vehicle auction market with more than 60 classics for all budgets among early entries consigned for its upcoming Sunday trading return to the Bedford Autodrome on the Thurleigh Business Park airfield, where cars will be offered from 12.30pm.

A 1965 230SL 'Pagoda' Merc with £60,000-80,000 expectations stars and a 1989 Ford Sierra Sapphire Cosworth with £26,000-28,000 on the screen will be aiming for a podium performance. Among medium-priced pop classics are a 1966 Mk2 3.8-litre Jaguar looking for a new owner with £23,000-25,000 to spend and a 1966 Mk1 Lotus Cortina evocation guided at £16,000-17,000. Meanwhile entry level value is on offer from a £3000-4000 1986 Rolls-Royce Silver Spirit I to a £1500-2000 advanced in 1959 Ariel Arrow motorcycle.

CCB

The three-pointed 'star car' in Bedfordshire will be a £60,000-80,000 guided 1965 Type W113 230SL 'Pagoda', a Brexitland suited right-hand drive auto with power-assisted steering for user-friendly parking.

A buying budget of £23,000-26,000 is suggested by the auctioneer for a forever classy 1996 Jaguar Mk2 3.8-litre in period chic Golden Sand Metallic that is said to be in lovely order with a massive history file.

This 1989 Ford Sierra Sapphire Cosworth, one of two consigned for the Classics Central sale, has only done 22,744 miles. With OEM exhaust and described as "near perfect", this one has a £26,000-28,000 estimate.

This 1966 Mk1 Ford Cortina 'evokes' the race-winning Lotus Cortina. The dilemma for a winning bidder with the £16,000-17,000 suggested to buy it will be whether or not to slot in a model-correct Twin Cam.
